WHAT IT IS

This book has been described in periodicals as follows :

"The necessary background in Korean history, religion and customs is supplied by the author, followed by chapters on the Beginning of the Mission, Stations in Strategic centres, A Seven-fold Working Program, Revivals, The Formation of the Korean Church, and The Present Re-adjustment Period.

Within this network of spiritual, social, educational, medical, and industrial organization, one can trace the majesty of a supernatural Providence, supplying its life and shaping its course. Here is a pabulum for the missionary-minded pastor

This sumptuous volume is replete with graphs, statistical tables, historical data, chronologically arranged and an index; it also contains eighty three illustrated pages, reproduced from photographic engravings".

Moody Bible Institute Monthly

"It is valuable as a source of direct evidence regarding....the establishment and development of the Christian Church in Korea....The church historian will be thankful for this book."

International Review of Missions

HIGH PRAISE

"It is a splendid piece of work—well organized and very comprehensive".

Dr. W. D. Schermerhorn,
Professor of Church History
Garrett Biblical Institute

"I have been asked to review this History for two different publications, and it has been difficult to give a sufficiently unenthusiastic review to make it seem fair

The collection of illustrations is really the best of the sort we have in our files."

Dr. Cleland B. McAfee, Secretary
Board of Foreign Missions
Presbyterian Church, U S. A.

"Your History of the Korea Mission elicits my warm admiration... You have rendered a service of inestimable value not only to the Mission but to the whole cause of Christ.

Your book is comprehensive, authoritative, wise and characterized throughout by a sane historical judgment and an admirable Christian spirit."

Rev. Arthur J. Brown, D. D., LL. D.
Korea Secretary, 1903-1929

EXCERPTS FROM REVIEWS

"Here is a remarkable story well told."

Presbyterian Tribune

"This comprehensive history of Protestant Missions in Korea should be useful to any one interested in foreign missions".

The Christian Observer

"Aside from its detailed information, this History of the Korea Mission is good reading."

Women and Missions

"We found the chronological index of especial interest. It goes back to 2333 B. C. and gives many dates and incidents connected with the influences on the Hermit Kingdom of religions in general and Christianity in particular.

This volume is of vital interest to those who would understand how Christianity wends and works its way into the life of a people like the Koreans".

The Chinese Recorder

A GLOWING RECORD

The Presbyterian Register of the General Presbyterian Alliance, published in Edinburg, in a full page review for May, 1935, concludes with this statement :

"Space forbids quoting interesting statistics and many other heartening things in this glowing record. We find much in it to bid us cheer up, take new spiritual courage and press forward with Christ's program".

The Half Century Number of the Korea Mission Field publishes a three page review by the Rev. E. W. Koons, D. D. Some of his statements are as follows :

"The first impression one gets is of a big subject adequately treated in the 700 pages of letter-press and more than 80 pages of illustrations."

"No twenty pages is more packed with information that every student of Missions will value, than is the chapter on the Korean Presbyterian Church."
